

Blooms in Five Rooms for $25

Kate Seaver of Kate's Garden (www.katesgarden.ca) gave us some easy ideas for last minute holiday decorating by quickly dividing a grocery store bouquet into five new arrangements. There should be enough plant material for a variety of vase sizes and heights to add a floral splash to the powder room, a living room mantle and coffee table, the kitchen counter, and the dining room centre piece. Kate stressed the importance of getting the original bouquet in water right away since every 15 minutes out of water shortens the bloom duration by one day. Ideally, the stems should rehydrate for a good hour before creating new arrangements. To prevent hydrangeas from drooping, submerge the full length of the stem including the bloom.

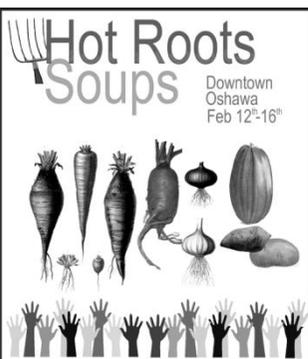

Kate demonstrated dismantling the bouquet and grouping the stems into categories: foliage, single flowers, floral sprays, etc. Stems can be cut and submerged in water. If the water is changed and the stems re-cut every two days, the blooms should last up to 10 days. Similarly, salad vegetables such as celery, lettuces and green onions, will stay fresh in your fridge for weeks if the stems are cut and water refreshed every two-three days.

For a more complete summary of Kate's presentation, see the OGC website [www.oshawagardenclub.ca].

Community Gardens - Growing Our Future

The Oshawa Environmental Advisory Committee (OEAC) hosted "Community Gardens - Growing the Future," a day-long event focused on how community gardens improve access to nutritious food and support food self-sufficiency, while reducing greenhouse gas emissions. The event coincides with a new Durham College program on farming and food. OGC member, Joan Kerr, addressed attendees. Speakers emphasized the challenges of urban agriculture in light of municipal policies. Several organizations: OHA, CLOCA, Durham Farm Fresh, Feed the Need Durham, Durham Integrated Growers (DIG), Durham Organic Growers, Durham Lakeside Vegetarians, had displays.

Hearty Cup of Community Pride

Between February 12th and 16th, downtown Oshawa restaurants will celebrate locally grown winter vegetables with soups made from Afro-Caribbean, Cajun, Creole and First Nations' heritage cuisines. Most of the soups will be heart-healthy and veg-friendly. There will be a donation of funds to Hearsh Place Cancer Support Centre. Be sure to get your "Hot Roots Soups" passport-roadmap at the next OGC meeting!

*Keeping
Ontario Beautiful*

The New Year is a time of beginnings.

I don't make resolutions per se, but rather, I prefer to take on projects that I know can be accomplished. They aren't usually things that result in personal gain, but something that result in a positive change.

This year I did begin a little early (for more selfish reasons than usual) and potted some bulbs that I found at a bargain price –with hopes of coaxing them to bloom in time for Easter. This is the first time that I have ventured beyond the grocery store amaryllis in forcing bulbs. As they sit in my garage, I am crossing my fingers that the fluctuating temperatures of December haven't pushed them along too early.

As a second new undertaking for the year, I plan to offer my assistance to at least one of the projects in the works for youth who have never experienced the rewards and joys of gardening. There is much that can be learned from working the soil. Beyond the horticulture, there is the entomology, the meteorology, the economics, the nutrition and, of course, the eating! As a role model, I will need to work on my lazy horticultural habits and the result will just be a bonus. Plus, who knows what else I will learn! I look forward to this unique opportunity to share knowledge and get someone else excited about digging into the soil.

With the start up of the new Community Gardens at the Legends Centre, I am certain that there will be others who might be in need of ideas or advice. If the opportunity arises, I hope that you will join us.

Help make the world a greener place!

Debi Foster,
President

Horticultural Pride

October's Flower show was a huge success thanks to all who participated. The OHA's guide book ( Publication 34)

Ontario Judging and Exhibiting Standards for Horticulture and Floral Design states that the "Objectives of the Show are to:

- Educate stimulate interest in horticulture,
- Provide a venue for creative expression,
- Encourage community participation and
- Have a project in which all members can participate."

A standard show has a least two divisions, which must include one Horticultural and one Design Division, which our club may eventually get to but you will see a standard show when we host the District AGM show.

Within the Horticultural division you can see classes for a single bloom, multiple blooms, collections, cut foliage, flowering and or fruited branches of shrubs, trees and vines. Classes will be shown for container-grown bloom or foliage house plants, container-grown herbs, and topiary/trained plants. All these classes are judged on form, colour, substance, stem/foliage and condition/grooming.

There is a lot to learn but it becomes easier with each entry you try. Most of it is common sense in how you display your prize specimen on the table in the best possible manner to catch the judges attention in order to win that 1st prize ribbon!

Volunteer Corner

JOIN IN THE CELEBRATION! We are looking for members to be OGC hosts at the upcoming D17 Conference on April 20, 2013. There will be a wide variety of opportunities, big and small. No matter your area of expertise, we would be happy to have you join us. Please contact Bonnie White or Debi Foster for further details.

OGC Christmas Social

The Christmas Social was very well attended this year and the members once again provided many delicious dishes. The Shout Sister choir provided the entertainment and the games and prizes completed the evening.

Imagination Station

The November meeting theme was “Birds of a feather”. The design is to be created using live plant material and feathers. In 1st place was Debi Foster with her imaginative turkey in a crate. Jo Ann Thow placed second with her ivy bird’s nest. 3rd place went to Debi and honourable mention to Vida Ycas-Abell.

But we are going to be “Pretty in Pink”. The only colour allowed is pink. Design to incorporate florals, enhanced by anything pink.

For those that looked and voted, but were afraid to try, this is your time to shine.

Val Foster
Committee Chair & Editorial Team

There has been a lot happening in the news lately. Therefore, for those that would like to have an outlet for all those newspapers, the January design is “Extra Extra, read all about it”. Design is to incorporate newspapers plus live plant material. No colour limitations.

February is hearts and flowers and chocolates.

Cranberry and Orange Soda Bread

from OGC member, Gary Mathers

Make sure the oven is preheated before you add the vinegar and soy milk mixture to the flour mixture. The dough starts processing as soon as the liquid hits the flour. The sooner you can get it into your hot oven, the better.

2 ¼ cups flour	2 tbsp sugar	½ cup dried cranberries	1 cup vanilla soy milk
2 tsp baking powder	½ tsp salt	1 tsp grated orange rind	1 tbsp apple cider vinegar
¼ tsp baking soda	½ tsp caraway seeds

Preheat the oven to 350 F. Lightly oil a 9-inch loaf pan and set aside.

In a large bowl, stir together the flour, baking powder, baking soda, sugar, salt, caraway seeds, cranberries, and orange rind. Add the soy milk and vinegar and gently stir the dough until “just mixed”. (If the dough seems a little dry and stiff, add a bit more soy milk).

Pour evenly into loaf pan, smooth out, and bake for 40-45 minutes or until a toothpick or knife comes out clean. Let cool on a rack for 10-15 minutes before removing from pan. Yield: 1 loaf.

-Recipe borrowed from “La Dolce Vegan” by Sarah Kramer, Arsenal Pulp Press, Vancouver.
